Is the Great "Father of Waters" Near St. Louis.

Fearful Destruction Wrought By the Constantly Swelling River.

Thousands of Acres of Growing Wheat Under Water-Ten Miles Wide is the Average Width of the Stream-Many Homes Abandoned.

Sr. Louis, May 16.-The river at 10 p. m. Sunday measured 34.9 feet, and is still rising at the rate of 1-10 foot an hour. On the dock most all perishable matter has been removed, so that in the city proper but little more damage can be done, except such as is naturally occasioned by flooded basements, etc.

A reporter for the Associated Press took a trip down the river for about fourty miles Sunday. The situation viewed from the pilot house of the steemer is one which at first glance is seen to be most serious. Thousands of acres on which a week ago the waving wheat was growing. making a rich carpet of green, are now vast lakes of water whose surface is broken by floating pieces of furniture. dwellings and here and there the body of a cow or hog. From bluff to bluff this is the unbroken monotony that greets the eye. Ten miles is the average width of the river as far down as the steamer proceeded.

Hund of homes have been abandoned and the number of cattle destroyed is expected to reach into the thousands. At Monte Sano and Rockbridge a number of rafts were seen transporting households from those places to the bluffs. Just below Smith Point, on a small piece of land, were over a hundred cattle, whose death the rapidly encroaching water made but the question of a few hours.

Bends island on the Illinois side is three feet under water. Near here, on the Mississippi side, in the vicinity of the White house, is the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway track. The embankment, which is dealt vigorous blows by the rapidly-flowing current, has in many places been undermined and no trains have been run over the track for thirty-six hours.

Untold damage will be suffered by the railroad company at this point alone. Up the Merrimae river the backwater has undermined the foundations of over a hundred houses. It is stated that two St. Louis peddlers were drowned early Sunday morning there, but their names could not be learned. At Foster's island 4,000 acres of tine farming lands are covered with two feet of water, and all hope of raising a crop this year has been'

EXPERTS WITH DYNAMITE.

Veheruelan Insurgents Blow Up a Camp, and Slaughter the Survivors-Two Hundred and Stateen Killed Altogether.

MARACATBO, Venezuela, May 16.-Col. Vallafane's camp, in the heart of the Andes, was blown into atoms with dynamite by the insurgents. Col. Ganjos, once an expert engineer in the service of German railroad builders of Caracas, fired the charge. After the firing of the mine the insurgents swept down upon what was left of the 216 government troops that occupied it, and put them to death. Villafane himself was among the slain. The Venezuelans are expert in the use of dynamite. The pass at La Chita, where the camp was blown up, was undermined some two weeks ago and loaded with dynamite several nights before Col. Villafane accepted the advice of guides to locate there.

FAITH CURISTS GO FREE. Grand Jury Finds Nothing to Condemn

CHICAGO, Ill., May 16 .- The grand jury has returned "no bill" in the case of Mrs. R. C. Stebbins, the exponent of "Faith cure." Mrs. Stebbins was held responsible by a coroner's jury for the death of Mrs. Jennie L. Nichols. The latter, it appeared, went to Mrs. Stebbins' house at No. 1828 Wabash avenue, and submitted to her treatment. The physician who was finally summoned by the police officers had to force his way into the house. Mrs. Stebbins was arrested and released on the surety of City Building Commissioner O'Neil. After hearing all the evidence in the case the grand jury concluded that if any one wanted to submit to the faith cure or Christian science it was nobody's business but his

MADE CRAZY BY COFFEE.

A Chicago Man Who Subsisted on It for

Years. CHICAGO, May 16.-A case where a man has become insane through excessive indulgence in coffee, was discovered here when Peter McKeever, a restaurant keeper, was taken to the detention hospital by his wife for examination. While the doctors were proceeding with their investigations McKeever became violent, and before he could be controled he had torn his clothes almost entirely from his body. Mrs. McKeever says: "For the past two or three years my busband has taken scarcely any solid food, but has subsisted almost entirely upon coffee. Although we tried to persuade him to change his method of living and abstain from coffee, for we saw that it was imparing his mind, we were unable to do so. He could not leave coffee alone." Dr. Wade said there seems to be no other reason for his insanity than the one assigned by his wife.

BERLIN, May 16 .- A trial that has reated intense interest in medical circles has just been concluded at Cassela, capital of Hesse-Nassau. Weiderhold, director of the hospital for nervous diseases at that place, was charged with maltreating a patient, the wife of Consul Gen. Zachmann. The doctor admitted that he had boxed Mrs. Zachmann's cars, beat her with a stick and whipped her because she screamed and moaned as though she was suffering great pain. She was suffering a white man named Justis and a negro from hysteria and her pains, the doctor said, were entirely imaginary. The punishment he inflicted upon her, he contended, was the best treatment for hysteria, and everything he had done was for her benefit. Much evidence was given for and against this course of treatment for a nervous disease, but the court decided that the accused was guilty of maltreatment, and sentenced him to three month's imprisonment.
